1. MODEL OVERVIEW & AUSTRALIAN MARKET NOTES

The Holden Monaro is Australia's most revered two-door muscle car and grand tourer. Introduced in July 1968 with the HK series, the pillarless hardtop coupe captured national imagination by winning the 1968 Bathurst 500 on debut with Bruce McPhee and Barry Mulholland in a GTS 327, fol lowed by Colin Bond's win in the 1969 HT GTS 350. Resurrected thirty-three years later followin g a sensational reception as the 'Coupe 22' concept at the 1998 Sydney Motor Show, the modern V 2 and VZ Monaro CV8 captivated enthusiasts globally and was exported to North America as the Po ntiac GTO and the UK as the Vauxhall Monaro.

The original HK Monaro was styled under GM-H design chief Joe Schemansky and project designer J ohn Schinella, featuring sweeping Coke-bottle rear hips, a dramatic semi-fastback roofline, and imported Chevrolet 327ci and 350ci small-block V8s. The HQ series brought softer, more organic proportions, offering the GTS 350 and introducing the 4-door GTS sedan in 1973. The modern reb irth engineered by Mike Simcoe in 2001 (V2/VZ) utilized the VT/VX Commodore platform, packing t he 5.7L LS1 V8 and supercharged V6, before culminating in the twin-hood-scoop 2005 CV8-Z.
