1. MODEL OVERVIEW & AUSTRALIAN MARKET NOTES

The Holden Statesman and Caprice was Australia's presidential luxury flagship for nearly five d ecades. Conceived to challenge the Ford Fairlane and LTD, the Statesman rode on an extended 114 -inch to 118-inch wheelbase providing unmatched rear legroom. Serving as official transport for Australian prime ministers, diplomats, business executives, and luxury hire car fleets, the St atesman and Caprice evolved from the ornate HQ-WB models to the modern IRS-equipped VQ-WL serie s and the billion-dollar Zeta-platform WM and WN. Exported globally as the Chevrolet Caprice, B uick Park Avenue, and US Police Pursuit Vehicle (PPV).

Originally marketed without the Holden nameplate simply as 'Statesman' in the HQ series, it fea tured formal roofline styling and standard V8 power. The 1990 VQ was a watershed car, introduci ng the first independent rear suspension (IRS) in a production Holden. The 2006 WM series was e ngineered on GM's global Zeta platform, offering extraordinary torsional rigidity and cavernous comfort. In 2015, the WN Series II Caprice V adopted the 304kW 6.2L LS3 V8.
